DESCRIPTION

A full-day tour of Luxor offers a comprehensive exploration of ancient Egypt’s history and fascinating culture. The tour includes visits to the Karnak Temple, Luxor Museum, and Mummification Museum.

The Mummification Museum provides a detailed look at the ancient Egyptian process of mummification. Visitors can learn about the careful techniques used to preserve the bodies of pharaohs and nobles, as well as the religious beliefs and rituals that surrounded the afterlife.

Following this, the tour moves to the Luxor Museum, which holds an impressive collection of artifacts from the Luxor region.

The museum displays a wide variety of ancient Egyptian items, such as statues, jewelry, and daily use objects. It gives visitors a chance to appreciate the skill and artistic value of these ancient treasures.

The tour concludes with a visit to the magnificent Karnak Temple, one of the largest temple complexes in the world.

Built to worship the gods of ancient Egypt, this temple is renowned for its immense size and its magnificent, intricate architecture. Walking through the temple grounds allows visitors to see large statues, tall columns, and detailed carvings that tell stories of Egyptian mythology and history.
