This economical trip with Day Tours Egypt takes you to Memphis, the first capital of ancient Egypt.

You will have the opportunity to visit the museum, where you can view artifacts from both the Old and New Kingdoms. The tour also includes a visit to the Dahshur pyramids, which consist of the Red Pyramid and the Bent Pyramid. These structures were built by King Snefru, the founder of the 4th Dynasty and the father of King Cheops, who is known for constructing the Great Pyramid of Giza.

Dahshur

This is an ancient royal cemetery located 30 kilometers south of Giza and 40 kilometers south of Cairo.

It was a significant site where the ancient Egyptians refined their techniques in pyramid construction. The Leaning Pyramid was the first attempt at building a pyramid with smooth sides, and it was constructed here.
