DESCRIPTION

Day Tour from Cairo to the Pyramids of Giza, Memphis, and Meidum

It is now your turn to discover how these magnificent pyramids of Giza were built, and for that, you will travel back in time by nearly 200 years to learn about the Great Pyramid of Giza, which was constructed by King Cheops.

His creative achievement continues to captivate people with its significance. With Cairo Day Tours, you will visit the burial site of the city that was once the center of Egypt during the Old Kingdom period.

Take a stroll through Memphis, a city often referred to as an open-air museum, where you can see the largest statue of Ramses II and other impressive statues and structures.

You will also have the opportunity to visit the Bent Pyramid of Snefru, also known as the Meidum Pyramid, and admire the remarkable structures built over 465 centuries ago as memorials to the Egyptian kings and rulers who helped shape the golden era of Egyptian civilization.

Proceed to the Giza Necropolis, where you will find the Great Pyramid of Cheops, the second Pyramid of Chephren, the third Pyramid of Mycerinus, the Great Sphinx, a monument of a man-headed lion, and the Valley Temple, associated with King Chephren.

Depending on the length of your Egypt Day Tour or after your Cairo tour, a lunch break will be arranged. This tour mainly focuses on the pyramids of Giza, but you can also customize the itinerary to include additional locations that interest you. Discover Memphis, Egypt's first capital, and the bent pyramids in Meidum.

Local tour guides, who provide detailed information about King Cheops, offer tourists a deeper understanding of Egyptian culture and history, allowing for a more personal and meaningful connection with the past.
